Migraine

Would you able to state the number of patients with a diagnosis of chronic migraine treated in the last 12 months? For the purposes of this diagnosis could be primary or tertiary and treated can be any medicine used ?

We do not record whether anyone has previously been diagnosed with migraine or has chronic migraine. We can however give you the combination of people with a new diagnosis of migraine and those suffering an acute attack but already known to suffer from migraine. Please let me know if you would like this figure.

We do not have records as to whether any of the patients received treatment (although most will have) as opposed to merely attended and were subsequently given the diagnosis of migraine.
