

PATIENT INFORMATION

YOUR WOUND AFTER CAUTERY

Introduction

Your skin has been cauterised, which means basically it has been burned, which seals the skin and prevents bleeding.

Your wound

After cautery the area may feel sore for a few days. Paracetamol may be taken at the recommended dose.

Aspirin should be avoided as it encourages bleeding. However, if you have been prescribed low dose aspirin for other reasons continue to take it.

You may have a plaster over the affected area. If so, keep it in place for 24-48 hours and then remove it and leave it open to the air.

Keep the wound clean. Wash and dry it gently.

You may find it becomes red and oozes a little. This is normal, but if after a week or so it becomes red, swollen, painful or pus is present, please contact your own GP.

A scab will begin to form, avoid picking it. After about four weeks it will fall off and the new skin underneath will look pink and shiny, but will fade in time.

Patient Experience

We know that being admitted to hospital can be a difficult and unsettling time for you and your loved ones. If you have any questions or concerns, please do speak with a member of staff on the ward or in the relevant department who will do their best to answer your questions and reassure you.

Feedback

Feedback is really important and useful to us – it can tell us where we are working well and where improvements can be made. There are lots of ways you can share your experience with us including completing our Friends and Family Test – cards are available and can be posted on all wards, departments and clinics at our hospitals. We value your comments and feedback and thank you for taking the time to share this with us.

Patient Advice and Liaison Service (PALS)

If you have any concerns or questions about your care, we advise you to talk with the nurse in charge or the department manager in the first instance as they are best placed to answer any questions or resolve concerns quickly. If the relevant member of staff is unable to help resolve your concern, you can contact the PALS Team. We offer informal help, advice or support about any aspect of hospital services & experiences.

Our PALS team will liaise with the various departments in our hospitals on your behalf, if you feel unable to do so, to resolve your problems and where appropriate refer to outside help.

If you are still unhappy you can contact the Complaints Department, who can investigate your concerns. You can make a complaint orally, electronically or in writing and we can advise and guide you through the complaints procedure.
